

SYSTEM ADMIN TERMS & CONDITIONS

("Bidder Terms")

Bidder Terms (for i-bidder.com and other applicable sites) are below. Also below is a short summary of the key provisions of our terms and your responsibilities as a user of our website or that of the Auctioneer where it is supported by Auction Technology Group.

Please read these Bidder Terms carefully before you start to use the website and/or the auctioneer site in order to receive the online auction services. We recommend that you print a copy of these terms for your records. By using the website and/or the auctioneer site in order to receive the online auction services you indicate that you accept these Bidder Terms (including on behalf of your Business (as defined below) if relevant) and that you and your Business (if relevant) agree to abide by them. If you do not agree, please refrain from using the website and/or auctioneer site to receive the online auction services.

Please note that it is the responsibility of the auctioneer and/or the seller (to the extent relevant) to inform you of any cancellation rights (if any) you may have if you are a consumer in relation to any lot you may purchase using Auction Technology Group's online auction services as Auction Technology Group is not acting as the seller of any lot or as the auctioneer.
